HIKING TRIPS

Thanks for signing up for this Everett Parks and Community Services hiking trip. This handout will help you prepare for the trip, and give you an idea what to expect.

THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW

- Most trips go as scheduled, but sometimes conditions force us to make changes. Be sure we have reliable DAY and EVENING phone numbers for you, so we can alert you to any changes ahead of time. Trips are rarely if ever cancelled by weather.
- If your level of conditioning is inadequate for the trip, you won't have any fun, and you could become a safety hazard for yourself and the group. These aren't extremely difficult trips by most people's standards, but they usually aren't totally flat and effortless either. The trip description in the guide should give you some idea of the length and elevation gain involved. If you're not sure whether you're capable of doing the trip, talk with us BEFOREHAND. The important thing is, we want you to enjoy yourself!
- TRY TO ARRIVE 15 MINUTES EARLY ON THE MORNING OF THE TRIP. The listed time is the Departure Time from Forest Park. We need you to fill out a hold harmless form, and you'll need time to unload your gear and get it into the van. If we delay the departure time and wait for people who are late, we are unfairly depriving the rest of the group of time they would like to have for hiking.
- If you decide to cancel at the last minute, and it's after regular office hours, and you cannot reach anyone at the Parks Department, PLEASE DON'T JUST BE A NO-SHOW!!! You can leave a voice mail at 257-8319. The trip leader will be able to retrieve your message on the morning of the trip. IMPORTANT: You may only use that voice mail number within 24 hours of the departure time of the trip. Cancellations prior to that MUST be through the Recreation Office (257-8300 ext. 2).
- For group safety all participants are expected to be able to keep pace with the group. Faster hikers may be requested to slow down to stay with the group. Do not sign up for outings if you cannot maintain the pace of the group. We do not permit slow hikers to return to the van by themselves due to safety.

THINGS THAT WE PROVIDE

- Van-- You'll travel to and from the trip in a nice, comfortable, 15-passenger van that is fully equipped for driving in the mountains.
- Trip Leader-- Our experienced leaders will see to it that you have a safe, enjoyable, and informative time.

THINGS THAT YOU MUST BRING

- Comfortable walking shoes or boots. Hiking boots with good vibram soles will provide the best traction, and protection from rocks, mud, and water. A lightweight-hiking boot is the best choice. Tennis shoes may be OK for short hikes on well-maintained trails, but they can be marginal for hiking on trails that are rugged or sloppy.
- Socks. Most hikers prefer two layers: a thin polypropylene liner sock against the skin, and a warm, cushiony wool sock over that. Cotton socks are not recommended.
- Plenty of clothing to keep you warm and dry. Dress with the layering system for the most comfort. The layers allow you to adjust your clothing for the level of your activity. Start with (1) an underwear layer. The best materials (polypropylene, polyester) will transport moisture away from your skin. The next layer (2) provides insulation, which traps the warm air near your body. Down, wool, and polyester fabrics all work well, while cotton and denim do not. Jeans are discouraged. The outer layer (3) provides wind and water protection. It will preferably have a hood, cuffs that close, drawstrings and material that repels water and wind. Gore-Tex or coated nylon garments are best.

- Hat & gloves. Even on warm days, unpredictable weather changes can bring a chill.
- Sunglasses (very important, whether the sun is out or not).
- Food & Water.
- A daypack to carry everything in.

THINGS WE RECOMMEND YOU BRING

- Foam sitting pad
- Whistle
- Hiking stick
- Sunscreen
- Toilet paper
- Dry clothes and comfortable shoes to change into after the hike
- A few dollars (we usually stop for a snack afterwards, and sometimes before too)
- Ten Essentials – Safety items that will help you survive the unexpected
 1. Map of the area
 2. Compass
 3. Extra food
 4. Extra clothing
 5. Pocket knife
 6. Flashlight (extra batteries, bulb)
 7. Sunglasses (required)
 8. Fire starter (candle, etc.)
 9. Matches (waterproof container)
 10. First aid kit (see list)

Suggested First aid kit contents:

Band-Aids, wide tape or gauze, disinfectant, gauze bandage or compress, large triangular bandage, razor blade or scissors, mole skin, lip protection, Ace bandage, butterfly bandage, safety pins, tweezers, aspirin, needle, salt tablets, tape. Optional items: Pain killers, allergy medicine, and antacids

A FEW FINAL NOTES

- Don't worry if you don't have top-of-the-line equipment. We don't expect everyone to run out and buy everything on the list. Be we don't want you to be miserable either. Please be sure, at a minimum that your boots and your rain gear are going to be reliable.
- When driving to and from the trip, we try to be accommodating in regards to restroom stops. If you need a stop, don't be afraid to speak up. Bear in mind also that the restrooms in remote areas can be somewhat primitive, so it may even be wise to carry a little extra t.p. in a jacket pocket, just in case.
- We try to make it back to Everett by the scheduled return time, but the unpredictable nature of outdoor trips sometimes makes this difficult, so we ask for your patience and understanding. If you get in a jam because of a late-returning trip, we'll make sure you can access a phone to notify the appropriate people.
- All participants should be aware of the Parks Department Refund policy. It is printed in the quarterly guide. If you have any questions or concerns regarding the trip, we encourage you to call us at 425-257-8300 ext. 2. Office hours are Mon. - Fri., 8am – 5pm (closed from 12:30-1:30pm).
- Andy Boos, who schedules and leads most of the hiking trips, maintains a web site that pertains to the Everett Parks outdoor trip programs. Visit the site at www.AlpineAndy.com. Particularly valuable is the "Upcoming Trips" page, which gives info about upcoming trips, including links to destination-specific weather forecasts. We recommend you check it out before your trip, to be alert for detailed conditions to expect.

MINIMUM IMPACT HIKING PRINCIPLES

On Everett Parks and Community Services hiking trips, we take very seriously our responsibility to travel with minimum impact on the land. These are special, and often very fragile places that we visit, and we must do all we can to make sure we leave them in as good of condition, or even better condition than when we arrived.

We expect our trip participants to:

- Leave no litter behind. If you pack it in, you must pack it out. In addition, pick up and pack out litter that others have left behind.
- Stay on established trails and impacted areas. Avoid cutting trail switchbacks.
- Protect all vegetation by taking care where you step. Choose resting spots carefully, and avoid sitting or placing your gear on the vegetation. This is especially crucial in higher elevation meadows where growing seasons are shorter, and damage can take years to heal.
- If you must move off a trail, protect the vegetation by using rocks, bare dirt, or snow to step on.
- If no established restroom or toilet is available, protect water sources by moving at least 200 feet away from all lakes and streams when you “do your thing.” It is best to urinate on rocks, snow, or bare areas. Solid human waste must be carried out with you and disposed of outside of the National Forest or National Park. Pack out all tissues and other garbage
- During winter weather when snow is on the ground we practice pack it out practices and the guide will provide blue bags for carrying waste.
- Respect other trail users and understand that you have an impact on their experience too. Avoid making loud noises, allow faster trail users to pass by, and be courteous and pleasant to those you meet.
- Pack it in, pack it out. Make sure that all your trash comes back with you and is properly disposed of. Help leave a cleaner environment by picking up trash found on the trail.
- Leave all natural areas as you find them, or better. Leave what you find. Even picking flowers denies others the opportunity to see them and reduces seeds.

Very often, our group is the largest one on the trail, so we are very visible and our impact is noticed. If we all do our part to travel with minimum impact, and care well for the places and people we encounter, we will be thought of well and will be welcomed back to these special places.

SAFETY ISSUES FOR HIKERS

Over a period of many years, the Everett Parks and Community Services outdoor trip program has had an excellent safety record. However, participants on trips must be aware that because we often travel to backcountry areas that are many hours from outside help, a cautious attitude and careful attention to safety principles is a must.

A WONDERFUL HIKE ON A GLORIOUSLY BEAUTIFUL
DAY CAN QUICKLY TURN INTO A VERY SERIOUS SITUATION IF SOMETHING GOES WRONG.

The following safety principles are used on Everett Parks and Community Services trips to promote the safety and enjoyment of you and your group:

- The trip leader has ultimate responsibility for the safety of the group. They are an experienced person, and they will base their decisions and directions to the group on safety. Cooperate with the leader.
- Hikers must know and understand the required equipment for their trip, and carry (or have access to) these items at all times. Hikers also understand that many “recommended” equipment items (hiking stick, whistle, the ten essentials, etc.) will greatly improve their safety. See the “Hiking Trips” handout.
- Hikers travel with the group. In some instances, temporary separations are fine, as long as their whereabouts are clearly understood by the leader and the group.
- Hikers do not travel alone. (Occasional exceptions may be made with leader instruction and walkie-talkies in communication range)
- Hikers do not attempt maneuvers that are difficult or hazardous for them without the consent and/or assistance from the trip leader.
- Hikers who travel AHEAD of the leader must stop at all trail junctions, challenging maneuvers, or where instructed to by the leader.
- If a participant travels ahead of the leader and does not have instructions on where to stop and wait, then they need to remain within visual and/or voice contact of the leader.
- Hikers must understand their personal responsibility for their safety, and the safety of others. Be well prepared, use caution, pay attention to your surroundings, ask questions, and watch out for others in your group who may be getting into hazardous situations.

Thank you for your care and understanding.
